SAPA SUPPORTS THE AFRICAN CHILDREN'S FEEDING SCHEME AND SPCA AT THE YEAR END EVENT

The African Children's Feeding Scheme

The African Children's Feeding Scheme (ACFS) was brought into being in 1945, by the illustrious Father Trevor Huddleston. From Father Huddleston's 11 000 meals a day, the ACFS grew until it provided up to 31 000 meals per day to poverty stricken children in the general Gauteng area.

Phindile Hlalele, CEO

"Through the assistance from The Giving Organisation Trust we are able to provide food to 31 000 children daily. These are mal-nourished children, HIV/AIDS infected and affected, child headed families who live in extremely poor circumstances. The ACFS Community Education and Feeding Scheme appreciates the generous contribution we receive monthly. Your support is a source of life to many underprivileged communities."

The National Council of SPCA (NSPCA)

Founded in 1956 as the Federation of SPCAs, is the umbrella body for 97 Societies situated throughout the Republic of South Africa. They deal with national issues and have four operational units, namely, "Farm Animals", "Society Liaison", "Special Projects" and "Wildlife", which work pro-actively to prevent animal cruelty. The NSPCA enforces over 90% of the animal welfare legislation. Yet it is a "hands-on" or "in the field" organization which works actively to uplift indigent communities through welfare operations and projects.

Christine Kuch, National PRO

"Sustainable income from The Giving Organisation Trust enables us to protect and care for animals of all species in our country. Working together and supporting one another demonstrates the power and impact of collaboration for the mutual benefit of all our people, our animals, and our environment. The Giving Organisation Trust – promoting change for the good."

More about the speakers

John Manyike

John Manyike joined Old Mutual in 1995 and has since been deployed in various business areas in multiple managerial roles from Customer services to retail distribution as an Area manager looking after a team of financial planners in Gauteng. He holds a post graduate degree in Industrial Psychology with Unisa and a management advanced programme with Wits Business School.

As Head of financial education at Old Mutual South Africa, he has shared a speaking platform with the likes of Dr Richard Maponya, CEO of Maponya Group and has represented Old Mutual on Morning Live on SABC 2 and CNBC Africa during the savings month in July 2011. He has written a number of articles on Sowetan, Daily Sun, The Star and various publications on practical personal financial management matters.

Andrew Horton

Andrew is one of the best motivational speakers in South Africa. You can trust him to deliver a relevant motivational message that works, every time. He is a straight shooting, grounded and deeply curious teacher that will inspire your team to deliver their best, every day. His credible message will leave all attendees with a practical set of tools and techniques that they can immediately begin to utilize and apply in their lives and careers.

His No. 1 goal when he speaks as one of South Africa's best motivational speakers, is to ignite magic in each person, connect with them so that he can help them renew a vision, inspire someone to find a lost belief or birth a new one, guide them to create a spark or inspire someone to take action so that they can achieve what they desire!

He has been a consummate student in the field of human development for the past twenty years and specializes in guiding business professionals to leverage their available time so that they maximize their potential and turn it into profit and sustainable long term success. As one of South Africa's most entertaining motivational speakers he will help every one that attends his talks to begin the process of developing a Success Habit Set that will help them to promote Sustainable and Effortless Success.
