

Benefits of Membership

South African Payroll Association

- The South African Payroll Association has been established to clear up any misperception that undermines the importance of having professional payroll administrators in business to deal with tax and HR-related issues .
- The South African Payroll Association helps members manage issues that have an impact on the sector through enlightening seminars and informative newsletters and newflashes.
- The South African Payroll Association encourages businesses throughout the country to add their voice to the national call for greater recognition, updated unit standards and the introduction of best practices for this profession.
- The South African Payroll Association is manned and driven by volunteer professionals who are focused on ensuring a better deal for payroll administration staff and who would like to see an improvement in communication and interaction between payroll staff members and management.
- The South African Payroll Association's mandate is to educate the market with insight on tax legislation, compliance with SARS, how technology and systems are changing the lives of payroll administration personnel, and ultimately, how this impacts on business.
- The South African Payroll Association has established an effective communication channel with the South African Revenue Service (SARS) which helps to ensure that members remain informed with regards to issues like changes in legislation, compliance and new provisions etc.
- The South African Payroll Association's affiliation with organisations like SARS, as well as international payroll organisations, helps to improve the image of payroll administration and promote higher levels of standards and service.
